

SYSTEMS AND METHODS FOR FILTERING IMAGES

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for filtering images is described. The method includes obtaining an image, and obtaining a final pixel value by performing a filtering operation on an initial pixel value of at least one pixel of the image and by modulating the filtering operation with a gain factor that is a function of the initial pixel value.